

Wildcat Girls Continue Skid In Two Losses

Andover and Buhler scored routs over the Mulvane High School girls basketball team the last week. Andover battered the Cats, 62-39, Monday night, Feb. 22, Parents' Night in Mulvane. Thursday, Feb. 18, Buhler clipped the Wildcats, 60-27.

The double losses dropped Mulvane's record to 2-15 overall.

"It's there, we just can't get it together," said Bill Brown, Mulvane girls coach. "We hadn't played very good basketball the last three or four games so we changed our offense a little for Andover and it helped. We passed the ball a lot better and we were getting those 10-footers but just couldn't hit them. We also had fewer turnovers."

However, a 19% field goal accuracy mark doomed the Wildcats.

Junior Nancy Gehring turned in a big game, scoring 19 points. She also had 12 rebounds in her best game of the season. Jay Kilpatrick scored eight and Mary Cole was held to seven after being in foul trouble most of the game.

At home against Buhler, there was little to cheer about against the strong Crusaders, the top team in the league.

"They put the full court pressure on and simply dictate the game," confessed Brown. "We just don't have the experience yet to cope with it."

Cole led the Mulvane scoring with nine points and sophomore Tawnya Infinger and Kilpatrick each had six.

Coach Leah Fairchild's junior varsity team had more to cheer about as they upset Andover in double overtime, 37-34. They also lost to Buhler, 51-11.

Against Andover, Tracy Elliott turned in a tremendous effort, scoring 10 points and hauling in 24 rebounds. Junior Stacy Shoemaker topped Mulvane's scoring with 12 points.

Against the Crusaders, the Cat offense was completely shut down. Guards Diane Mohney and Lisa Swayne scored four and three points, respectively.
