

Girls Conclude Regular Season

By Manhandling Winless Orioles

In Bill Stinson's second year as head girls basketball coach, the Mulvane Wildcats jumped one space in the league standings, but don't expect Stinson to stay on his one-jump a year plan.

His Wildcats closed out the regular season Friday night, Feb. 24, with a homecoming victory over Augusta which amounted to their biggest victory of the season. They bombed the Orioles, 53-23.

The victory gave the Cats fourth place in the Chisholm Trail League Division I standings with a 4-6 record. Overall, Mulvane went 7-13 with Sub-State to play.

Augusta ended a season probably with a sigh--the Orioles didn't win a game.

"We moved up a notch in the league (from fifth a year ago) but it was more because Augusta lost all its seniors and went down," said Stinson, whose Cats finished ahead of Wellington and Augusta. "Still, we did improve our play and were in quite a few games. We were competitive and that's what we wanted to accomplish this year."

The Orioles didn't provide much competition past the first quarter. Ahead only 10-8 at the first-quarter mark, the Wildcats out-scored Augusta, 13-4, and 12-6, in the second and third frames to throw the game out of control.

"We started with a zone and went to a man-to-man and just physically out-matched them," said Stinson. "We won because we were a better team and it was just a matter of getting the girls to play our game."

All five starters scored in the second quarter, and sophomore Lori Cox scored eight points and junior Lisa Jones had six in the middle two periods when the game was decided.

"We went to the man-to-man defense and when you apply some pressure to Augusta, they start throwing the ball away," added Stinson. "That's what happened."

"(Tawnya) Infinger broke out of her slump and it was nice to see her come back and Cox, she's been a staple all year, scoring about 10 points a game
